CONCURRENT ENROLLMENT APPLICATION FOR U.S. STUDENTS (SPRING 2015)

Application Fee: $125.00

Please note: After your application is approved, it will take one to two business until you have access to apply for Concurrent Enrollment classes.

Submission Deadline: Feb 13, 2015

- If you have previously created a concurrent enrollment account, you may have received an email with your new user name. Log in to your student account. If you forget your user name or password, click on “forgot user name” or “forgot password”.
- If you have never created a concurrent enrollment account before or never enrolled at UC Berkeley Extension, create a new account by clicking on “new user” and inserting your email address.
  - Do not create multiple accounts. If you are a returning student who has previously applied for or enrolled in Concurrent Enrollment, you already have a student account. You can use the Forgot User name and Forgot Password features to log in to your existing student account. Creating duplicate accounts may interfere with the review of your program and class applications and the ability to authenticate through CalNet. If you have created a duplicate account, email concurrent@berkeley.edu so that your accounts can be merged.
  - Do not use an @berkeley.edu address to create your account. Your @berkeley.edu email account expires after the term ends and could create problems with accessing your account later on.
Once you have logged into your existing account, you can also update or create your student account on this page or select a password to your account. Please be sure to complete all mandatory fields marked with an *.

Once you have completed your student profile, click on “continue application.”
Click on “View.”

Click on “Start”.
Complete the questionnaire for the application.

Welcome, Sandra
